The Blessing

Remember your source

*I am an angel in the form of a horse.
I reveal myself to those who are ready to transcend disconnection.*

*Hearken to the river of universal knowledge.
Drink from her pure waters.
With eyes unclouded ~ you will see beyond appearances.*

*We spirits are not merely of the air,
we are woven into the fibers of the world.
A part of our essence remains here after we are gone.*

*With a heart unburdened ~ you will remember you are part of this intricate, infinite source.
What tapestry will you weave?*
